

1995 Assessment Journal Index

Author Index

- Anderson, Charles. British Columbia's Bill 56—Forest Land Reserve Act: Freezing private forest land "for productive forest into the future" (explanatory note to Bill 56). March/April:34–36.
- Austin, Michael L., CAE. Appraising the assessor: A new level of respect. May/June:60, 96.
- Behrenbrinker, Stephen C., CAE. Conducting productive performance evaluations in the assessor's office. September/October:48–54.
- Behrens, John O. This land of sales, markets, values, and opinions—Informed and otherwise. May/June:54–59.
- Bennett, E. Lee. The rose and the thorn: Notes on the effects of gaming in Hancock County, Mississippi. May/June:32–33.
- Bilyeu, Gary. Five ways any assessor can improve performance. March/April:56–57.
- Birch, John W., and Mark A. Sunderman. Equalizing property appraisals to market: Comparing old and new methods. March/April:47–53.
- Blow, Chuck, CAE. An introduction to total quality management. January/February:25–27.
- Blufarb, Ben. Valuation of contaminated property: When the lender has to pay. July/August:27–29.
- Cappello, Steve. Incurable What?! Incurable functional obsolescence. July/August:54.
- Christensen, Dan. Reflections on the Voyageurs National Park tax court case—A win for the assessors and traditional appraisal techniques. January/February:58–60.
- Cooke, Stephen, and Neil Meyer. Predicting the effects of a property tax rate limitation initiative: The Idaho experience. July/August:36–44.
- Crissey, John C., Jr., CAE, and Ward, Richard D., CAE. Developing market-based adjustments for the comparative sales approach using simple regression analysis. May/June:50–53. [See also letters, September/October:5–7.]
- de Vries, John J. How to tell whether the coefficient of dispersion cannot be reduced any further. July/August:33–35.
- Dilmore, Gene. Size adjustments: Getting with the program. March/April:40–46.
- Dornfest, Alan. Ratio study issues revisited: 1994 survey results. November/December:29–46.
- Farley, Jewette, CAE. The politics of assessment: Or a sermon for the choir. May/June:61–64.
- Galardo, Pierre. Obsolescence, a judicial view—The Canadian experience. January/February:55–57.
- Glassing, Charles R. Determining market value of contaminated properties: A clear case for traditional appraisal methods. March/April:37–39.
- Gloudemans, Robert J. Effective appraisal in hot real estate markets. November/December:55–58.
- Grothe, Barbara P., and Alan K. Reichert. A monopolistic competitive model of the local housing market, with special emphasis on the incidence of property taxes. January/February:46–54.
- Harris, Gary T., CAE. Regulation of public utilities and its effect on value. September/October:29–31.
- Hartsfield, Bert. Public access and the Internet. March/April:58–59.
- Hess, Alan C. Do regulated utilities have growth opportunities? July/August:45–53.
- Hester, H. Neil. Approaches to the appraisal of theme parks. September/October:56–57.
- Hilleman, Roberta A. Chicago: Explore its avenues. March/April:8–12.
- Hineman, George L., Jr., RES. Developing a budget and management information system for assessment administration through activity cost centers. May/June:36–39.
- Hostetler, Jean. Use of the comparable sales approach for commercial property in mass appraisal. January/February:32–35.
- Hronsky, Peter. Public access. January/February:61–63.
- Jordan, D. Jerry. Development of a rural large-tract land pricing schedule. May/June:40–43.
- Kelly, Laurel, and Lori Spina. Total quality management and organizational change: The Martin County, Florida, model. January/February:28–31.

Kroft, Jenny. Varied paths to public relations. March/April:60-61.

Marcuvitz, Alan. Current issues in the valuation of race tracks. September/October:35-37.

McMillan, Jim. Difficulties in appraising fixed assets. July/August:30-32.

Means, Mike, and Jeffrey V. Pennington. The assessor's office after the Oklahoma City Bombing. September/October:58-61.

Meyer, Neil, see Cooke.

Reichert, Alan K., see Grothe.

Sams, John. Living with the dead. May/June:34-35.

Skolnik, Martin A. Taking the mystery out of discounted cash flow analysis. January/February:36-41.

Spina, Lori, see Kelly.

Sterk, Robert B. In search of professional identity. March/April:54-55.

Sunderman, Mark A., see Birch.

Tenenbaum, Wayne A. Resolving the conflict between appraisal theory and marketplace reality in the use of economic or contract rent in valuing property subject to long-term leases. September/October:38-47.

Thomas, David. Proportionality model—the Tasmanian experience. May/June:44-49.

Todora, James F., CAE. Experiences and benefits of employment advertisements in IAAO publications. May/June:8.

True, René F. Discounted cash flow analysis: Assessor's tool for single-property appraisal. January/February:42-45.

Ward, Richard D., CAE, see Crissey.

Wisconsin Association of Assessing Officers. Preparing the public for a revaluation. July/August:57-59.

Worley, Mike. Commercial catfish production property. March/April:32-33.

Worley, Mike. Improved versus unimproved lot values. July/August:55-56.

Young, Joe. Attracting and keeping qualified personnel in rural and small jurisdictions. November/December:59-60.

Subject Index

Adjustments for Size

Developing market-based adjustments for the comparative sales approach using simple regression analysis. John C., Crissey, Jr., CAE, and Richard D. Ward, CAE. May/June:50-53.

Size adjustments: Getting with the program. Gene Dilmore. March/April:40-46.

Adjustments for Time

Effective appraisal in hot real estate markets. Robert J. Gloudemans. November/December:55-58.

Living with the dead. John Sams. May/June:34-35.

Appeals

Determining market value of contaminated properties: A clear case for traditional appraisal methods. Charles R. Glassing. March/April:37-39.

Reflections on the Voyageurs National Park tax court case—A win for the assessors and traditional appraisal techniques. Dan Christensen. January/February:58-60.

Assessment Administration

Conducting productive performance evaluations in the assessor's office. Stephen C. Behrenbrinker, CAE. September/October:48-54.

Developing a budget and management information system for assessment administration through activity cost centers. George L. Hineman, Jr., RES. May/June:36-39.

Effective appraisal in hot real estate markets. Robert J. Gloudemans. November/December:55-58.

Equalizing property appraisals to market: Comparing old and new methods. John W. Birch and Mark A. Sunderman. March/April:47-53.

Five ways any assessor can improve performance. Gary Bilyeu. March/April:56-57.

In search of professional identity. Robert B. Sterk. March/April:54-55.

An introduction to total quality management. Chuck Blow, CAE. January/February:25-27.

The politics of assessment: Or a sermon for the choir. Jewette Farley, CAE. May/June:61-64.

Public access. Peter Hronsky. January/February:61-63.

Public access and the Internet. Bert Hartsfield. March/April:58-59.

Total quality management and organizational change: The Martin County, Florida, model. Laurel Kelly and Lori Spina. January/February:28-31.

Budgeting

Developing a budget and management information system for assessment administration through activity cost centers. George L. Hineman, Jr., RES. May/June:36-39.

Casinos

The rose and the thorn: Notes on the effects of gaming in Hancock County, Mississippi. E. Lee Bennett. May/June:32-33.

Catfish Production Property

Commercial catfish production property. Mike Worley. March/April:32-33.

Cemeteries

Living with the dead. John Sams. May/June:34-35.

Chicago

Come to conference and discover Chicago's hidden treasures. May/June:10-12.

Chicago: Explore its avenues. Hilleman, Roberta A. March/April:8-12.

Cigarette-Manufacturing Plant

Case comment: Cigarette-manufacturing plant. September/October:33-34.

Coefficient of Dispersion

How to tell whether the coefficient of dispersion cannot be reduced any further. John J. de Vries. July/August:33-35.

Commercial Properties

Approaches to the appraisal of theme parks. H. Neil Hester. September/October:56-57.

Case comment: Cigarette-manufacturing plant. September/October:33-34.

Commercial catfish production property. Mike Worley. March/April:32-33.

Current issues in the valuation of race tracks. Alan Marcuvitz. September/October:35-37.

Determining market value of contaminated properties: A clear case for traditional appraisal methods. Charles R. Glassing. March/April:37-39.

Discounted cash flow analysis: Assessor's tool for single-property appraisal. René F. True. January/February:42-45.

Incurable What?! Incurable functional obsolescence. Steve Cappello. July/August:54.

Obsolescence, a judicial view—The Canadian experience. Pierre Galardo. January/February:55-57.

Resolving the conflict between appraisal theory and marketplace reality in the use of economic or contract rent in valuing property subject to long-term leases. Wayne A. Tenenbaum. September/October:38-47.

The rose and the thorn: Notes on the effects of gaming in Hancock County, Mississippi. E. Lee Bennett. May/June:32-33.

Use of the comparable sales approach for commercial property in mass appraisal. Jean Hostetler. January/February:32-35.

Contaminated Properties

Determining market value of contaminated properties: A clear case for traditional appraisal methods. Charles R. Glassing. March/April:37-39.

Valuation of contaminated property: When the lender has to pay. Ben Blufarb. July/August:27-29.

Contract Rent

Resolving the conflict between appraisal theory and marketplace reality in the use of economic or contract rent in valuing property subject to long-term leases. Wayne A. Tenenbaum. September/October:38-47.

Cost Approach

Case comment: Cigarette-manufacturing plant. September/October:33-34.

Current issues in the valuation of race tracks. Alan Marcuvitz. September/October:35-37.

Difficulties in appraising fixed assets. Jim McMillan. July/August:30-32.

Effective appraisal in hot real estate markets. Robert J. Gloudemans. November/December:55-58.

Reflections on the Voyageurs National Park tax court case—A win for the assessors and traditional appraisal techniques. Dan Christensen. January/February:58-60.

Disaster Assessment

The assessor's office after the Oklahoma City Bombing. Mike Means and Jeffrey V. Pennington. September/October:58-61.

Discounted Cash Flow Analysis

Discounted cash flow analysis: Assessor's tool for single-property appraisal. René F. True. January/February:42-45.

Do regulated utilities have growth opportunities? Alan C. Hess. July/August:45-53.

Taking the mystery out of discounted cash flow analysis. Martin A. Skolnik. January/February:36-41.

Employment Advertisements

Experiences and benefits of employment advertisements in IAAO publications. James F. Todora, CAE. May/June:8.

Equalization

Effective appraisal in hot real estate markets. Robert J. Gloudemans. November/December:55-58.

Equalizing property appraisals to market: Comparing old and new methods. John W. Birch and Mark A. Sunderman. March/April:47-53.

Ethics

Appraising the assessor: A new level of respect. Michael L. Austin, CAE. May/June:60, 96.

Code of ethics for tax managers and consultants. July/August:17-18.

Executive Board approves revision of Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct. July/August:10-12.

IAAO's assessment standards, Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct, and USPAP: How do they relate to each other? September/October:9.

In search of professional identity. Robert B. Sterk. March/April:54-55.

Farmland

Development of a rural large-tract land pricing schedule. D. Jerry Jordan. May/June:40-43.

Forestland

British Columbia's Bill 56—Forest Land Reserve Act: Freezing private forest land "for productive forest into the future" (explanatory note to Bill 56). Charles Anderson. March/April:34-36.

Development of a rural large-tract land pricing schedule. D. Jerry Jordan. May/June:40-43.

4-R Act

This land of sales, markets, values, and opinions—Informed and otherwise. John O. Behrens. May/June:54-59.

Guidelines for Submission of Articles

Guidelines for submission of articles to Assessment Journal. July/August:66-67.

Hewlett-Packard Financial Calculator

Developing market-based adjustments for the comparative sales approach using simple regression analysis. John C., Crissey, Jr., CAE, and Richard D. Ward, CAE. May/June:50-53.

Discounted cash flow analysis: Assessor's tool for single-property appraisal. René F. True. January/February:42-45.

Highest and Best Use

Reflections on the Voyageurs National Park tax court case—A win for the assessors and traditional appraisal techniques. Dan Christensen. January/February:58-60.

Hot Real Estate Markets

Effective appraisal in hot real estate markets. Robert J. Gloudemans. November/December:55-58.

IAAO Benefits

Experiences and benefits of employment advertisements in IAAO publications. James F. Todora, CAE. May/June:8.

IAAO Conference

Conference 1995. November/December:20-28.

IAAO Financial Statements

IAAO financial statements for years ending October 31, 1994, and October 31, 1993. May/June:14-17.

IAAO Representatives

IAAO representatives by state. March/April:13-16.

Income Approach

Determining market value of contaminated properties: A clear case for traditional appraisal methods. Charles R. Glassing. March/April:37-39.

Discounted cash flow analysis:

Assessor's tool for single-property appraisal. René F. True. January/February:42-45.

Effective appraisal in hot real estate markets. Robert J. Gloudemans. November/December:55-58.

Taking the mystery out of discounted cash flow analysis. Martin A. Skolnik. January/February:36-41.

Income-Producing Properties

Approaches to the appraisal of theme parks. H. Neil Hester. September/October:56-57.

Case comment: Cigarette-manufacturing plant. September/October:33-34.

Commercial catfish production property. Mike Worley. March/April:32-33.

Current issues in the valuation of race tracks. Alan Marcuvitz. September/October:35-37.

Determining market value of contaminated properties: A clear case for traditional appraisal methods. Charles R. Glassing. March/April:37-39.

Discounted cash flow analysis: Assessor's tool for single-property appraisal. René F. True. January/February:42-45.

Incurable What?! Incurable functional obsolescence. Steve Cappello. July/August:54.

Obsolescence, a judicial view—The Canadian experience. Pierre Galardo. January/February:55-57.

Resolving the conflict between appraisal theory and marketplace reality in the use of economic or contract rent in valuing property subject to long-term leases. Wayne A. Tenenbaum. September/October:38-47.

The rose and the thorn: Notes on the effects of gaming in Hancock County, Mississippi. E. Lee Bennett. May/June:32-33.

Taking the mystery out of discounted cash flow analysis. Martin A. Skolnik. January/February:36-41.

Use of the comparable sales approach for commercial property in mass appraisal. Jean Hostetler. January/February:32-35.

Land Valuation

Case comment: Cigarette-manufacturing plant. September/October:33-34.

Commercial catfish production property. Mike Worley. March/April:32-33.

Developing market-based adjustments for the comparative sales approach using simple regression analysis. John C., Crissey, Jr., CAE, and Richard D. Ward, CAE. May/June:50-53.

Development of a rural large-tract land pricing schedule. D. Jerry Jordan. May/June:40-43.

Reflections on the Voyageurs National Park tax court case—A win for the assessors and traditional appraisal techniques. Dan Christensen. January/February:58-60.

Size adjustments: Getting with the program. Gene Dilmore. March/April:40-46.

This land of sales, markets, values, and opinions—Informed and otherwise. John O. Behrens. May/June:54-59.

Leases

Resolving the conflict between appraisal theory and marketplace reality in the use of economic or contract rent in valuing property subject to long-term leases. Wayne A. Tenenbaum. September/October:38-47.

Legal Issues

British Columbia's Bill 56—Forest Land Reserve Act: Freezing private forest land "for productive forest into the future" (explanatory note to Bill 56). Charles Anderson. March/April:34-36.

Case comment: Cigarette-manufacturing plant. September/October:33-34.

Current issues in the valuation of race tracks. Alan Marcuvitz. September/October:35-37.

Determining market value of contaminated properties: A clear case for traditional appraisal methods. Charles R. Glassing. March/April:37-39.

Obsolescence, a judicial view—The Canadian experience. Pierre Galardo. January/February:55-57.

Reflections on the Voyageurs National Park tax court case—A win for the assessors and traditional appraisal techniques. Dan Christensen. January/February:58-60.

Resolving the conflict between appraisal theory and marketplace reality in the use of economic or contract rent in valuing property subject to long-term leases. Wayne A. Tenenbaum. September/October:38-47.

This land of sales, markets, values, and opinions—Informed and otherwise. John O. Behrens. May/June:54-59.

Mapping

Total quality management and organizational change: The Martin County, Florida, model. Laurel Kelly and Lori Spina. January/February:28-31.

Mass Appraisal

Development of a rural large-tract land pricing schedule. D. Jerry Jordan. May/June:40-43.

Effective appraisal in hot real estate markets. Robert J. Gloudemans. November/December:55-58.

Proportionality model—the Tasmanian experience. David Thomas. May/June:44-49.

Use of the comparable sales approach for commercial property in mass appraisal. Jean Hostetler. January/February:32-35.

Modeling

Discounted cash flow analysis: Assessor's tool for single-property appraisal. René F. True. January/February:42-45.

A monopolistic competitive model of the local housing market, with special emphasis on the incidence of property taxes. Barbara P. Grothe and Alan K. Reichert. January/February:46-54.

Proportionality model—the Tasmanian experience. David Thomas. May/June:44-49.

Use of the comparable sales approach for commercial property in mass appraisal. Jean Hostetler. January/February:32-35.

Neighborhood

Living with the dead. John Sams. May/June:34-35.

Proportionality model—the Tasmanian experience. David Thomas. May/June:44-49.

Reflections on the Voyageurs National Park tax court case—A win for the assessors and traditional appraisal techniques. Dan Christensen. January/February:58-60.

Obsolescence

Current issues in the valuation of race tracks. Alan Marcuvitz. September/October:35-37.

Difficulties in appraising fixed assets. Jim McMillan. July/August:30-32.

Incurable What?! Incurable functional obsolescence. Steve Cappello. July/August:54.

Obsolescence, a judicial view—The Canadian experience. Pierre Galardo. January/February:55-57.

Oklahoma City Bombing

The assessor's office after the Oklahoma City Bombing. Mike Means and Jeffrey V. Pennington. September/October:58-61.

Paired-Sales Analysis

Effective appraisal in hot real estate markets. Robert J. Gloudemans. November/December:55-58.

Living with the dead. John Sams. May/June:34-35.

Parks—Publically Owned

Reflections on the Voyageurs National Park tax court case—A win for the assessors and traditional appraisal techniques. Dan Christensen. January/February:58-60.

Personal Property

Approaches to the appraisal of theme parks. H. Neil Hester. September/October:56-57.

Difficulties in appraising fixed assets. Jim McMillan. July/August:30-32.

Professional Designation Program

Designation requirements change. September/October:10.

List of Professional Designation Advisors. March/April:17-20.

Professionalism

Five ways any assessor can improve performance. Gary Bilyeu. March/April:56-57.

In search of professional identity. Robert B. Sterk. March/April:54-55.

Property Tax—Incidence

A monopolistic competitive model of the local housing market, with special emphasis on the incidence of property taxes. Barbara P. Grothe and Alan K. Reichert. January/February:46-54.

Property Tax Limitation

A monopolistic competitive model of the local housing market, with special emphasis on the incidence of property taxes. Barbara P. Grothe and Alan K. Reichert. January/February:46-54.

Predicting the effects of a property tax rate limitation initiative: The Idaho experience. Stephen Cooke and Neil Meyer. July/August:36-44.

Public Access

Five ways any assessor can improve performance. Gary Bilyeu. March/April:56-57.

Public access. Peter Hronsky. January/February:61-63.

Public access and the Internet. Bert Hartsfield. March/April:58-59.

Public Relations

Five ways any assessor can improve performance. Gary Bilyeu. March/April:56-57.

The politics of assessment: Or a sermon for the choir. Jewette Farley, CAE. May/June:61-64.

Preparing the public for a revaluation: Questions to be answered. Wisconsin Association of Assessing Officers. July/August:57-59.

Public access. Peter Hronsky. January/February:61-63.

Varied paths to public relations. Jenny Kroft. March/April:60-61.

Race Tracks

Current issues in the valuation of race tracks. Alan Marcuvitz. September/October:35-37.

Ratio Studies

Ratio study issues revisited: 1994 survey results. Alan Dornfest. November/December:29-46.

Equalizing property appraisals to market: Comparing old and new methods. John W. Birch and Mark A. Sunderman. March/April:47-53.

This land of sales, markets, values, and opinions—Informed and otherwise. John O. Behrens. May/June:54-59.

Regression Analysis

Developing market-based adjustments for the comparative sales approach using simple regression analysis. John C., Crissey, Jr., CAE, and Richard D. Ward, CAE. May/June:50-53.

Discounted cash flow analysis: Assessor's tool for single-property appraisal. René F. True. January/February:42-45.

A monopolistic competitive model of the local housing market, with special emphasis on the incidence of property taxes. Barbara P. Grothe and Alan K. Reichert. January/February:46-54.

Proportionality model—the Tasmanian experience. David Thomas. May/June:44-49.

Residential Property

Developing market-based adjustments for the comparative sales approach using simple regression analysis. John C., Crissey, Jr., CAE, and Richard D. Ward, CAE. May/June:50-53.

Living with the dead. John Sams. May/June:34-35.

A monopolistic competitive model of the local housing market, with special emphasis on the incidence of property taxes. Barbara P. Grothe and Alan K. Reichert. January/February:46-54.

Proportionality model—the Tasmanian experience. David Thomas. May/June:44-49.

Revaluation

Preparing the public for a revaluation: Questions to be answered. Wisconsin Association of Assessing Officers. July/August:57-59.

Sales Comparison Approach

Commercial catfish production property. Mike Worley. March/April:32-33.

Developing market-based adjustments for the comparative sales approach using simple regression analysis. John C., Crissey, Jr., CAE, and Richard D. Ward, CAE. May/June:50-53.

Effective appraisal in hot real estate markets. Robert J. Gloude-mans. November/December:55-58.

Reflections on the Voyageurs National Park tax court case—A win for the assessors and traditional appraisal techniques. Dan Christensen. January/February:58-60.

Use of the comparable sales approach for commercial property in mass appraisal. Jean Hostetler. January/February:32-35.

Single-Property Appraisal

Developing market-based adjustments for the comparative sales approach using simple regression analysis. John C., Crissey, Jr., CAE, and Richard D. Ward, CAE. May/June:50-53.

Discounted cash flow analysis: Assessor's tool for single-property appraisal. René F. True. January/February:42-45.

Special-Purpose Property

Approaches to the appraisal of theme parks. H. Neil Hester. September/October:56-57.

Current issues in the valuation of race tracks. Alan Marcuvitz. September/October:35-37.

Commercial catfish production property. Mike Worley. March/April:32-33.

The rose and the thorn: Notes on the effects of gaming in Hancock County, Mississippi. E. Lee Bennett. May/June:32-33.

Spreadsheets

Taking the mystery out of discounted cash flow analysis. Martin A. Skolnik. January/February:36-41.

Tax Policy

A monopolistic competitive model of the local housing market, with special emphasis on the incidence of property taxes. Barbara P. Grothe and Alan K. Reichert. January/February:46-54.

Predicting the effects of a property tax rate limitation initiative: The Idaho experience. Stephen Cooke and Neil Meyer. July/August:36-44.

Taxable Property Values

Gross and net assessed value of property subject to local general property taxation by class of property and state: 1991. September/October:55.

Theme Parks

Approaches to the appraisal of theme parks. H. Neil Hester. September/October:56-57.

Total Quality Management

An introduction to total quality management. Chuck Blow, CAE. January/February:25-27.

Total quality management and organizational change: The Martin County, Florida, model. Laurel Kelly and Lori Spina. January/February:28-31.

Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal Practice

Appraising the assessor: A new level of respect. Michael L. Austin, CAE. May/June:60, 96.

Executive Board approves revision of Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct. July/August:10-12.

IAAO's assessment standards, Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct, and USPAP: How do they relate to each other? September/October:9.

Utilities

Do regulated utilities have growth opportunities? Alan C. Hess. July/August:45-53.

Regulation of public utilities and its effect on value. Gary T. Harris, CAE. September/October:29-31.

